Dear friends,

You may remember that my letter in February was inspired by my reading of Rachel Joyce's novel 'The Unlikely Pilgrimage of Harold Fry'. I thoroughly enjoyed the book and so I was delighted to discover that Rachel Joyce had written a companion novel called 'The Love Song of Miss Queenie Hennessy'. This book tells the story of the woman that Harold Fry is walking to. She is dying of cancer in St. Bernadine's Hospice in Berwick-upon-Tweed, whilst being cared for by a Catholic order of nuns. It is a funny, thought provoking and, at times, immensely moving book. The last few lines of the novel belong to Sister Philomena, the Mother Superior, who writes to Harold and in that letter she says this:

'This is the conclusion that I have come to: if we work at it, it is always possible to find a rational explanation for what we don't understand. But perhaps it is wiser once in a while to accept that we don't understand, and stop there. To explain is to sometimes diminish. And what does it matter if I believe one thing and you believe another? We share the same end.'

For some of us the event of the resurrection of Jesus Christ, as wonderful as it is, is a puzzle. By that I mean, not a puzzle that ties us up in knots and ultimately frustrates us, but a puzzle that 'to explain is sometimes to diminish'. No words are sufficient to attempt to explain the event which, we believe, has changed everything about our world. Those who were there at the time struggled to understand what was happening too. But something happened and what we believe about it might be slightly different from the person next to us, but ultimately it is where we find our end and our new beginning. So we are rightly glad and celebrate all that Christ has done for us!

'He is risen! Alleluia!'

May God bless us during this season of Easter.

Lent Course

These meetings were well attended with about 25 people managing at least one session. I felt it was good to meet with members who attend House-groups and some who are not part of another House-group. I hope those who attended found the sessions helpful with food for thought.

VESTRY JOTTINGS

We warmly welcome Jill and Shirley to our team and look forward to working with them. We thank Ian for all he has done during his time as a Steward.

We give a very warm welcome to the Shepherd family who are joining us in membership.

I have been asked to repeat our need for someone to come forward as a treasurer for the church. Antony has written a great job description and will be happy to work with someone to explain the processes. Please consider this and chat to one of us or Antony if you want more information.

May we take this opportunity to wish everyone a Happy Easter.

Maggie

The next healing prayer group will be held on April 15th at Joan and Jeff's house starting at 10.00. Rita Jackson

OBITUARY

We remember fondly Reg Smith who died on Saturday 21st February in a nursing home in Nailsea near Bristol, where he had moved to be nearer his daughter.

Reg was a lifelong Methodist at Stoke Road, Gosport before spending many years, along with his wife Maureen at Fareham. They were both actively involved in the church until Maureen sadly died not long after her retirement, having looked forward to spending time with Reg who had retired some years earlier.

We send our condolences to his family.

A thank you letter has been received from Helen Perry of Cedar Oak pregnancy and post-abortion support, for our churches donation of £159.65. Helen says "At this time, there is much thoughtful consideration and prayer about where God is leading us at Cedar Oak. Alongside that we still have clients who are receiving support and counselling so donations such as yours allow us to continue providing the facilities for this work."

I would like to thank all those who supported The coffee morning held in aid of the Rainbow Centre 25th Anniversary appeal, especially the band of willing helpers. I am pleased to say that £140 was raised on the day. A cheque has been sent to the Centre along with a gift aid form which will enhance the sum raised by 25%.

METHODIST WOMEN IN BRITAIN

There will be an Easter Offering Service to be held at Portchester Methodist Church on Sunday 17th May 2015 at 18.30. Although we are a Stewardship Church, we still participate and give a substantial monetary gift to the World Church and everyone is invited to attend.

The next charity to be supported by MWiB and Wednesday Fellowship as part of the Connexion will be in support of the “Dalits”, a very deprived group of women previously known as ‘the untouchables’. These women live mainly in Northern India, but there could be at least 50,000 in the UK. They are left to do the most menial of jobs. To support these women the MWiB Connexional President has pledged to raise £50,000 nationwide in the next three years. This support will consist of an Education Project within the Church of North India.

Time to rethink sanctions

In 2014, one million benefit sanctions were imposed on people. This means their payments stopped for a period of between one month and three years. The most common reason for being sanctioned is being late or not turning up for an appointment. The result is often needing to turn to a foodbank.

This is one person's story: "During the first three weeks of my sanction I continued to look for work as I was required to. By the fourth week however I was exhausted, unwell and no longer had it in me. I was not eating as I had no food and was losing a lot of weight. I told the Job Centre I was unwell through not eating but was sanctioned for another three months for not looking for work properly."

The report, Time to rethink benefit sanctions published by a large coalition of churches, including the Methodist Church, looks at the sanctions regime and argues strongly that it is not working and is damaging some of the most vulnerable people in society.

For further information see this page on ITV News.

What factors should we consider when choosing an MP, a local councillor or any other holder of an elected office?

This topic is explored in a pack produced by the free churches, encouraging us to consider under four headings, with suggested questions for our candidates, samples as below.:

TRUTH What will you do personally to ensure that your party can keep the promises and commitments that it is making in this election campaign? How will you hold yourself accountable to your constituents for this?

JUSTICE How will your party address economic systems that leave many developing countries disadvantaged and impoverished?

PEACE How can the UK best support peace in the Middle East and other places of conflict and unrest? What policies do you have to pursue this?

WELLBEING What will you do to address the growing inequalities in our society between rich and poor?

The pack includes Bible study material, a DVD, and other suggested questions. If you would like a group set up to look at this, or borrow it for an existing group, or for personal use please contact me.

Welborne report to CTIF 26 February 2015

The Council submitted the Welborne Plan to the Government-appointed Inspector in the autumn of 2014.

The Inspector came back with some modifications he required.

The Council responded to these and passed them in full Council on 21 January in a marathon session that lasted from 6 – 11.20pm

After a period of public consultation in these modifications, which ends on 9 March, the Plan will be resubmitted. If all goes well the Inspector will finalise his report and find the Plan “sound” without great delay. However, he may ask for further modifications and the process could go round one or more further cycles, including public consultation.

Once the Plan is found to be sound, then the landowners and developers will put in their outline and detailed planning applications, in accordance with the parameters of the Plan. But, in that process, the public will still be able to object/make constructive comments on the detailed plans as they take shape.

I have met with Gavin Collins, Archdeacon, and plan to set up a meeting, after Easter, with reps from the denominations who get involved in strategy. Hopefully we will be addressed by the Archdeacon of Oxford, who has analysed the churches’ mission strategy in a number of greenfield developments – some positive stories some less so. Our aim would be to avoid reinventing the wheel and to learn from the best practice.

For information I attach an extract from the Plan as submitted with reference to places of worship. These declarations of intent are the result of several years of CTiF’s association with this project, and cover not only providing space for worship, but also our role in community cohesion and “place-making”.

Commentary in the Plan

5.68 In addition, the need has been identified for places of worship, including at least one church, to be provided at Welborne. Such buildings are generally funded and developed by the churches (or other faith groups) and therefore will not necessarily place a burden on the development of Welborne. However, given that most churches and other places of worship play an important role in providing general community meeting space and, more widely, in contributing to community cohesion and place-making, it is right for this plan to support the delivery of such buildings.

Therefore, the comprehensive master-planning for Welborne will be expected to consider how places of worship can be incorporated into Welborne and sufficient spaces will need to be allowed for these facilities to come forward during the development of the new community. Spaces for places of worship should be incorporated into Welborne’s three centres to maximise access by sustainable modes of travel. However, the Council will consider the case for one or more of these to be outside of the centres where there were good reasons for applying this. Cont. on page 15

Formal statement in the Plan

The comprehensive masterplan(s) that accompany initial planning applications shall incorporate sufficient and appropriately located space for the development of churches or other places of worship. Such reserved spaces shall be identified either within, or in close proximity to, each of Welborne's three centres. The Council will work with the site promoters and with local faith groups to support the delivery of churches and other places of worship at Welborne throughout the plan period."

Comment from the Editor: This is all very commendable and right That Christians Together in Fareham should be considering the potential requirement for new churches in a planned development as huge as this. However, this does not take away from the fact that some of our church membership are very opposed to a development as large as this on our doorsteps. We are saddened at the requirement to take away prime farming land and are concerned at the potential risk of flooding and the strain that 6000 new homes will put on the infrastructure: Roads are already overburdened and medical/hospital facilities in the area are already considerably overstretched and oversubscribed.
